Amid the icy furies which hail winter in Michigan's Copper Country, there annually arises a latent bit of desire among the student organizations of Michigan Tech. Energies and spirits are directed for weeks on end in a struggle to create from the vast blanket of whiteness a pocket of fleeting splendor on their campus. Magically huge mounds of snow are transformed into momentary works of art and the spirit of competition pervades the very atmosphere.

1972 is mentored by the theme "Snobody's Perfect". A phrase which becomes all the more evident as the final hours of agony and delight wane on and this truth is brought home.

We salute those whose time and effort have gone into the creation of this year's Winter Carnival and, in behalf of our university community, say thanks.

Michigan Tech's Winter Carnival is an event anxiously looked forward to each year by nearly all of the residents of Michigan's Copper Country. Without the superb guidance of the local chapter of Blue Key National Honor Fraternity it is very likely that the event would never occur. The prior planning which goes into the organization of such an affair is so great that it is topped only by the efforts needed in the final staging. To the members of Blue Key we offer congratulations on a job well done and say thanks.

Bruce Trusock—National Publicity Chairman, Dean Meese—Advisor, and Mike Audit packing snowballs to be sent to Southwest Texas State University.

Among the many events which occur during the annual Winter Carnival week is the packing of 500 of the Copper Country's finest snowballs in dry ice. This frigid package is then air-lifted to Southwest Texas State University where the shirt-sleeved student body joyfully forms sides and leans into an honest snowball fight. If given a chance the Michigan Tech students would probably carry the snow, one handful at a time, to Texas for only the opportunity of seeing the warm sun.

Blue Key officers: John Waldron—Treasurer, Jim Blevins—Vice President, Mike Audit—President, Dan Shamblin—Secretary.

The Winter Carnival with which we are familiar at Michigan Tech and, which sometimes seems like a very regulated tradition, has seen many variations in the past years. Many changes have been made since the Ice Carnival of 1922. This was a circus show on ice given by students performing in animal costumes. Band presentations, competition figure and speed skating were also included in the one day festivities.

In late winter of 1924 a circus big top was pitched on the campus and acts similar to the 1922 Ice Show were performed in the sawdust ring. That evening 1,100 people from the college and the Copper Country paid admission to see the show—a fantastic crowd for the Copper Country at that time.

The first Carnival Queen was chosen in 1928 and, featured in that Carnival, was a float parade.

It wasn't until 1934 that hockey became part of the tradition with the first two-game series against the University of Minnesota. The Blue Key organized this Carnival and added the competitive events of skiing, skating, and snowshoe races, and, also, a dance. The Tech instructors challenged the local businessmen to a hockey game and were outwitted on the ice.

1936 brought the first snow statues built by students and the local children. The statues generally reflected the nature of the organization rather than being based upon a unifying theme. The Flying Club built an airplane and the Electrical Engineers built a generator. Accumulated information on building methods from these early statues enabled them to reach their present size and complexity of detail.

The first judging of skits was held in 1946 in the Kerredge Theatre in Hancock.

1947 saw the advent of the beard contest and 1948 began a series of ice shows featuring local talent and amateur stars from all over the world. Often invited were Olympic contenders for the skating performance.

A change in format appeared in 1953 with the "Boom Copper Days". An "Old Time Gambling Hall" was set up in Dee Stadium complete with dancing, gambling, and a chorus line of coeds for entertainment.

In 1955 a Queen contest was again held. The judging was based upon the candidates' skiing and skating ability.

The first concert held in conjunction with Winter Carnival occurred in 1962 when the Four Preps were sponsored by the Student Government. That year, too, a flare pageant provided a colorful addition to the Carnival.

The 1972 Winter Carnival is a product of the additions and deletions made throughout the years since the first Ice Carnival. It is truly a unique series of contests and activities designed by time and much hard work to make it an exciting and enjoyable holiday.
