Appendix: Copyright Permission Documentation

Chapter 2:

The relevant documentation for permission from Publisher ‘ELSEVIER’

The above image gives the copyright permission guidelines for publisher ‘ELSEVIER’

Moreover the image below represents the author has the permission to use partial or full document for their ‘Thesis or Dissertation for non-commercial purposes’.
Permission Guidelines

For further guidelines about obtaining permission, please review our Frequently Asked Questions below:

When is permission required? ▶
When is permission not required? ▶
From whom do I need permission? ▶
How do I obtain permission for a photograph or illustration? ▶
Is it legal to obtain permission to use material posted on a website? ▶
What rights may I license when requesting permission? ▶
How do I obtain permission from another publisher? ▶
What is Aggideal? ▶
What should I do if I am not able to locate the copyright owner? ▶
What is Elsevier's policy on using patient photographs? ▶
Can I obtain permission from a Reproduction Rights Organisation (RRO)? ▶
Is Elsevier an RRO? ▶
Is it legal to request permission to use material from another RRO publisher? ▶
Do I need to request permission to use Eliberis content? ▶
Can I post an article on a website without violating copyright? ▶
Good to know article ▶
Can I include my article in an electronic dissertation? ▶
Yes. Authors can include their articles in full or in part in a thesis or dissertation for non-commercial purposes.
Which uses of a work does Elsevier view as items of prior publication? ▶

Obtaining permission to use content on ScienceDirect

If the content you wish to reuse is on ScienceDirect, you may request permission using the Copyright Clearance Center's Rightslink® service. Simply follow the steps below: